Meeting the Practitioners

The CFA Program

Daniele Cappellini, Emiliano Micucci, Alessandro Ronzoni

November 29, 17:15pm

Classroom S9 (2° Floor – Edificio Didattica)

The CFA Program is a professional credential offered internationally by the CFA Institute, a global association of investment professionals. During the meeting we will present the CFA Program and the CFA Society Italy. We will also illustrate the FMC fund management program and the Research Challenge, two activities dedicated to University students, proposed by the CFA Society Italy.

Daniele Cappellini: graduated in engineering at University of Rome “La Sapienza”, he earned CFA designation in 2014 and represents CFA Italy in Centre-South Italy from 2016. Experienced portfolio manager across different asset classes he actually works as investment strategist in a top Italian insurance company.

Emiliano Micucci: graduated in economics at University of Rome “La Sapienza”. In 2013 he achieved the CFA designation. He has a professional background ranging from the investment bank and corporate sector, both in London and in Italy. He is currently working for Enel, in the Macroeconomic and Energy Analysis and Forecasting division.

Alessandro Ronzoni: graduated in Finance at Bocconi University, he became charterholder in 2015. With a background in Corporate & Investment Banking, he actually works in a European Institution as loan officer with responsibilities of origination and structuring in the Italian market.
