

Marta Cariello is Associate Professor in English Literature and Cultural Studies at Università degli Studi della Campania “Luigi Vanvitelli”. She has published on postcolonial literature, with a specific focus on Anglophone Arab women writers. Among her recent publications, La questione mediterranea, with Iain Chambers (Mondadori, 2019). She is co-founder and co-director of the academic journal de genere. Journal of Literary, Postcolonial and Gender Studies. Her current research focuses on the Mediterranean as a critical space of Modernity, and on nationhood and gendered postcolonial narratives.