In the last 4 years served as the head of EMIS, the international boarding school in Israel also known as 'the school for change'.

Leading the academic life and the mission of the school 'making education a force for peace and sustainability in the middle east' has been of the main focus and challenge.

During the time as a teacher, on the international sphere and the local one in Israel, I taught several subjects: Theory of knowledge, find your passion, history, civic studies and innovative thinking.

Also served as a counselor for the Israeli president team which focused on education and reconnecting the different segments of the Israeli society. I have been one of the founders and leaders of the Israeli 'teachers' movement' and a part of national group which aims to change education in Israel. Also served as the head of the center for entrepreneurship in education, Israel.
