

Francesco Archidiacono (1994) is an Italian comicbook artist and illustrator. Since 2020 he has been working with the Italian Air Force as art director, coordinating the production of original graphic novels dedicated to the history of the armed force. He is secretary and one of the founders of MeFu – Mestieri del Fumetto. In 2023, together with Lorenzo Ceccotti, he founded EGAI (European Guild for Artificial Intelligence Regulation), a European platform with the aim of asking for regulation for companies offering generative AI services.
