2nd Module: Proff. Martina Conticelli, Giacinto della Cananea, Jean-Bernard Auby

Course Description

The Course is divided into two Modules (International Law and Contemporary Challenges and Global Administrative Law). It focuses on the logics, dynamics and challenges of what can be called “global law”. “Global law” refers to a situation in which: (1) relationships between the interests of individuals and public authorities are influenced or governed by multiple normative systems (from informal social norms to law, from specific rules to the general principles of law), with the consequence that such systems co-exist and compete with one another within the same territory or domain of activity; or (2) two or more systems of governance – such as the courts of different legal orders – claim authority over the same domain of activity.

Topics include: the criteria governing the expropriation of aliens; due process of law in regulatory and adjudicatory procedures; the tensions between custom, state law, and human rights in developing countries; and the ways in which the pluralist structure of international treaty law and organization are transforming law and courts at the national level.

The 1st Module aims at providing students with the knowledge of the basic elements of modern international law, with particular reference to subjects and legal sources, the United Nations collective security system, the State responsibility and disputes resolution.

The 2nd module focuses on the rise of global administration, on the emergence of administrative law mechanisms beyond the State and on transnational regulation.

Assessment of Global Law exam

1st Module: International Law and Contemporary Challenges

With reference to the 1st Module, students' evaluation will be based on the attendance in class (25%), on mid-term written exams (35%) and on a final oral exam (40%). The mid-term exams will be a total of three (one for each topic), and will cover at least 50% of the issues addressed in topic 1 (The Law of the International Community: Subjects and Sources of International Law), in topic 2 (United Nations and Collective Security System) and in topic 3 (State Responsibility and Disputes Resolution in International Law), respectively. The final exam will concern the other issues addressed in topic 1, in topic 2 and in topic 3 that have not been covered by the mid-term exams.

Attendance to the final exam is compulsory in order to pass the exam. Students who do not attend the first final exam can do it without foregoing the mid-term results in the second exam of the Winter session.

Attendance to the class is strongly requested. In case of non-attending students, we advise to contact Prof. Borgia, Prof. Mucci and Prof. Simone (see Office hours) for a better understanding of the assessment methods.

2nd Module: Global Administrative Law

Students attending classes will be evaluated on the basis of (A) three short (2-3 page) "response papers" on the weekly readings (45%), (B) attendance and participation (25%), and (C) a final oral exam (30%). Attendance to the final exam is compulsory in order to pass the exam. Students who do not attend the first final exam can retake it, without foregoing the response papers results, in the second exam of the Winter session.

Non-attending students will have to take a written and oral exam and will have the following additional readings:

- EU and Global Administrative Law: Foundations and Challenges (The Hamlyn Lectures) Paperback by Paul Craig (Author), Cambridge university press: part 5, and part 6;
- Due Process of Law Beyond the State. Requirements of Administrative Procedure. Giacinto della Cananea, Oxford University press part III

1st and 2nd Module

The final grade given to the students for the Course of Global Law will be equivalent to the point average obtained between the final grade attributed at the end of the 1st Module and the final grade attributed at the end of the 2nd Module, rounded up for averages with 5 decimals.

The results of one module cannot be kept either for another call of the same session or for another exam session, the whole exam must be completed on the same call. The exam will be passed if the average of the grades of the two modules is higher than 18.

Students who reject the grade of one of the two modules have to repeat the whole exam on other call and the exam will consist of a written and oral part.
