DESIGN THINKING WORKSHOP

University of Rome Tor Vergata - Via Columbia 2 - Rome
Room: Sala a Scacchi 2nd floor
May 25th, 2022

Description

The InCompEdu project tackles the common challenges in the sudden switch to online teaching at the HEI in the EU, due to COVID-19, by identifying and sharing the good practices, knowledge and experience gained at the partner universities and beyond. The challenges include both mastering of new digital skills and the methodologies of creating and conducting online courses. The project consortium involves 6 academic partners from 6 different countries, that is, Croatia, Finland, Italy, Poland, Romania, and Slovenia, led by the University of Gdansk, Poland.

The workshop is aiming to discuss about different scenario of online teaching developed during the Covid-19 scenario and discuss, with a design thinking methodology, the main opportunities and risk related to each teaching scenario.
