

PH.D. CONTRACT SERVICE AND MARKET THEORY

The PhD in Contract Service and Market Theory is a 3-year full-time programme providing to prepare students to conduct high-profile research in the field of contracts, services and markets, at universities, firms and research centres.

The programme is hosted by the Department of Management and Law (DMD) of the University of Rome 'Tor Vergata'. It offers a distinguished faculty, promoting excellence in teaching and research, and a lively and international research environment.

The PhD Program is characterized by its transnational orientation. Agreements with foreign Universities are being taken to encourage collaborative PhD thesis. In the professors' board are involved International renowned researchers from Paris (France), Brasil, Oxford (UK), Neuchatel (Swiss), Castilla La Mancha (Spain), Regensburg (Germany).

The PhD program is also characterized by its interdisciplinary approach. Infact the PhD board belong to many different scientific fields. This variety allows students to gain a wide and high level knowledge, preparing them for placement in private companies, public institutions and academia.

The working language of the PhD program is mainly Italian. During the 3 years, the scientific progress of the doctoral students is constantly monitored through the delivering of activity reports, the checking of the lectures' attendance, and the evaluation of yearly assignments. Presenting at national and international conferences, and/or submitting studies for their potential publication, is also strongly encouraged.
