

NOTICE for REIMBURSEMENT
For the COMPLETION of MATLAB CERTIFICATION (Associate Level)
2020/2021 Academic Year
- reserved for students of MSc. Finance and Banking and MSc. Economics –
(with reference to the Department Council resolution of 09/03/2021)

GENERAL PROVISIONS

As proposed by the Programme Coordinators of MSc. Finance and Banking and MSc. Economics, considering that the MatLab certification expands the professional opportunities of students and is considered an excellent tool for the analysis of economic and financial data, the Department of Economics and Finance of Tor Vergata University of Rome, with the resolution of the Department Council of 09/03/21, has allocated twenty reimbursements equal to 122,00 euro each in favour of students who are regularly enrolled in the 2020/2021 academic year in MSc Finance and Banking and four reimbursements for students regularly enrolled in the 2020/2021 academic year in MSc Economics, as an incentive to those who achieve the MATLAB certification (Associate level) by 31 December 2021. It is a certification of knowledge in the field of computer programming which allows students to increase their job opportunities. MATLAB is an environment for numerical calculation and statistical analysis written in C, which allows users to manipulate matrices, display functions and data, implement algorithms, create user interfaces, and interface with other programs. MATLAB is widely used in industry and universities because of its many tools to support the most diverse fields of applied study and it works on various operating systems including Windows, Mac OS, GNU/Linux and Unix.

ADMISSION CRITERIA

Students may present a request for MATLAB certification reimbursement if they meet both of the following requirements:

- a) They are regularly enrolled in MSc Finance and Banking or in MSc Economics during the 2020-2021 academic year;
- b) They have passed the MATLAB Associate Level certification exam by 31 December 2021.

CASES FOR EXCLUSION

Students will be excluded from reimbursement if they have previously received sanctions following the presentation of false declarations aimed at obtaining benefits for the right to study or for which a disciplinary sanction has been issued.

The first twenty students enrolled in MSc Finance and Banking will be reimbursed and the first four students enrolled in MSc Economics who send the reimbursement request via email to the MSc Program Office will be reimbursed, therefore the chronological order of arrival of the requests will be taken into consideration. Requests received after the established number and/or deadline date will not be considered for reimbursement.

PRESENTATION OF THE REIUMBURSEMENT REQUEST

Students must present a reimbursement request by 31 January 2022 by using the Reimbursement Request Form (Annex 1), which must be fully completed and sent to the MSc Programme Office of reference together with the MATLAB Associate Level certification, the privacy policy disclosure (Annex 2) and a copy of a valid ID.
