

“Hello everyone. I am an Associate within the Competition Department of the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and I am based in London. The FCA is the regulator of the financial services in the UK and aims to make markets work well, for individuals, for business, and for the economy as a whole.

Prior to join the FCA, I worked as a competition economist in a private consultancy named Lear for two years. At Lear, I provided economic advice including follow-on damages litigation – covering industries such as financial services, media, transport and groceries. My work has also encompassed technical assistance projects for The World Bank Group in GCC countries, Egypt and Rwanda.

I hold an MSc in European Economy and Business Law and a BSc in Economics, both from the University of Rome Tor Vergata. I also completed a Master’s in Competition and Market Regulation from the Barcelona Graduate School of Economics”
