Course Description

Nowadays, many organizations produce and/or collect huge quantities of data, which is becoming a key asset for their strategies. The main objective of this course is to introduce students to the notion of algorithmic intelligence, by providing a basic toolkit of algorithmic and quantitative methods that are able to analyze and extract value from data. In particular, the course aims at introducing (some of) the main algorithmic innovations at a basic level while still trying to remain rigorous.

Teaching Method

Lectures will be based on oral presentations. Some kind of analysis will also be presented at the board, and used for open discussions. Some part of every lecture will be dedicated to in-class discussions. Interaction between the instructor and students will be strongly encouraged.

Topic 1	Fundamentals in algorithms and data organization
Topic 2	Page Rank: an algorithm at the heart of Google's search engine
Topic 3	Recommendation algorithms and the long tail economy
Topic 4	Big Data and Analytics
Topic 5	Cybersecurity
Topic 6	Digital currencies (Bitcoin)
